The Malin head Community Centre: YOUTH CLUB will hold a community clean-up on Saturday 14th and they would like members of the area to come out and participate by cleaning up there area and along the roads before the grass starts to grow. Plastic Bottles have become the most common refuse collected on the roadside and beached around Malin Head and this is the reason why the Malin head Community Association has signed up with Refill.ie

The Malin head Community Centre & Northern Bites Cafe are the first property in Inishowen to have signed up with Refill.ie which is a voluntary environmental project leading the way to make Ireland a tap water refill country where filling up your reusable bottle for FREE from one of over 200 and rising refill locations is an everyday task. This avoids any further totally unnecessary single use plastic drinking water bottle purchases and waste, while helping our environment (hugely!), our health and our pockets all at the same time. This voluntary projects aims to prevent plastic waste through reducing the amount of single use drinking water plastic bottles we consume in Ireland of which a very significant portion end up on our streets, waterways and seas, but whilst keeping us all healthy, hydrated and saving money at the same time. Simply put, if the waste is not created in the first instance, there is no waste management problem.
